

Knoxville Explosion Adding New 2024 Explosion Team to Organization Roster!

Written by Joe Birchfield

Tuesday, 13 June 2017 21:50 -

Attention prospective '06 and '05 players and parents! Due to significant interest, the Knoxville Explosion is adding a new elite 11u team that will be coached by our existing '02 Head Coach Harold Lynn beginning in the Fall of 2017! This team is an additional team for the 12u age group. Our '05 and '06 Explosion Teams will continue to operate as normal and will not have any impact on this new team. Here are the details!

Explosion 2024 is an A level team forming in the Knoxville area for competitive ball players who love the game. We are looking for all positions and will be a first year 12U team in the fall. We will only accept committed players and families looking to be on a long-term Team that will stay together and build a solid foundation for an elite level of play. Players will be taught correct fundamentals, strong core values, and leadership skills. Practices will be challenging and organized, schedules will include travel to area states, and Explosion 2024 will be a family oriented Team that works together to support all players in their development. Any interested player is invited to try out, Saturday, July 29th from 10 am-2 pm at the Union Cumberland Presbyterian Church field, 400 Everett Road, Knoxville, TN 37394. Please contact head coach, Harold Lynn at 865-228-8082 or tn02softball@gmail.com for more information.